By DANIEL DE LUCE
FRANKFURT, Germany (P) — A rank case of treason and widespread unrest tortured West Germany's nerves today.

For the first time in its five-year history, the Bonn republic has shown signs of wavering in its vaunted discipline, industriousness and unity.

A million low-paid workers in industry, agriculture and even government are massing behind union leaders to get more money or walk out.

Old Wounds Reopened

Strikes this week by 15,000 Hamburg public utility employees and a majority of the 220,000 metal workers in Bavaria are a warmup for worse to come unless management and labor jointly begin talking reason.

Many old political wounds among the Germans have been reopened by the desertion to the Soviet zone of Dr. Otto John, the West German security chief.

A wartime anti-Nazi and post-war British agent, John strained Allied-German relations by his startling defection to the East.

Wealth of Information

For West Germany's enemies throughout the world, John is now supplying fresh propaganda charges that the Bonn government is Nazified and a menace to peace.

For Soviet spy chiefs, John is a potential gold mine of information about Western security agents.

He is the man who went to dinner in Washington just two months ago with Allen Dulles, director of the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency, and who conferred with FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover and high American military officers at the Pentagon. U. S. officials insist he was told nothing of great importance but have not minimized the seriousness of his defection.

Public Confidence Impaired

John has imperiled public confidence in the wisdom and honesty of Bonn cabinet ministers who claimed up to the hour of his sensational press conference Wednesday that he was the victim of a Red plot.

John's defection and the outbreak of labor strife couldn't have come at a worse psychological moment for West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's regime.

The nation already was edgy, waiting for France to make up its mind after two years and three months of vacillation whether to ratify or junk the European Army Treaty signed on May 27, 1952.

He is survived by his widow, Esther, two sons, Thor and George L., both of Racine, Wis., and a daughter, Mrs. Verle Loodeen, Escanaba. Another daughter, Marquita, was fatally injured in an automobile accident July 5.

Eisenhower Will Play Heavy Campaign Role

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (P) — President Eisenhower appears to be inching into a leading role in the battle for control of Congress despite his avowed plans to remain aloof from local political skirmishes.

Administration leaders said today Eisenhower hopes to go on television and radio with a 30-minute talk on the administration's legislative record within 24 hours after Congress ends its regular work, probably next week.

Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he was planning what he called a little bit of a talk to review Congress' record since he took office in January 1953. He added he didn't want to cheat on himself by saying any more at this time.

Has Busy Schedule

Democrats indicated they may demand equal time to counter what some of them said they regard as a Republican kickoff for the congressional campaign.

Despite Eisenhower's repeated statements that he would avoid getting involved in local political fights, his schedule already includes appearances in Illinois, New Jersey and Kentucky. Pressure is reported beginning to build up heavily from other areas. The President has also taken time to pose for pictures with more than 100 GOP House members.

GOP National Committee officials have turned to Vice President Nixon to carry the heavy burden of a political stump tour. Nixon starts his active campaigning with a speech at the Ohio State Fair Sept. 15 and is expected to make several excursions to different parts of the country before the November voting.

Proud of Record

Many Republicans say, however, that there is no voice equal to Eisenhower's in defending the record of the GOP-controlled Congress.

Detroit Dairies Cut Milk Price

DETROIT (P) — Union employees of six Detroit dairies have approved an agreement to cut the price of home-delivered milk by three cents a quart in lieu of a pay raise.

Brunson Gilbert, president of Local 155 of the AFL Milk Drivers and Dairy Employees Union, said the workers first sought a $12-a-week pay increase.

But they decided to forego it, he said, if the dairies would cut prices the equivalent of a $12-a-week per route. The three-cent reduction would benefit all customers who use more than 30 quarts a month.

Gilbert said the union men felt they could increase their sales enough to make up the $12—and help milk-consuming families at the same time. The six dairies serve about 60,000 customers.

Economic Prospects Bright, Eisenhower Survey Reveals

Leonard Won't Take Sides In Picking Slate

By JACK I. GREEN

IONIA (P) — Donald S. Leonard, Republican nominee for governor, says he won't take sides between those who want more new faces on the Republican state ticket this fall and those who want to renominate all the incumbents.

Leonard declared himself neutral to reporters at the annual politicians' gabfest, Governor's Day at the Ionia Free Fair.

The Republican standard-bearer conceded three are groups in the party who want to dump the present members of the State Administrative Board and start all over again.

Convention Aug. 21

The decision will be made at the party's state convention in Grand Rapids Aug. 21.

"I won't express a preference unless the convention becomes deadlocked," Leonard said, "and I am asked my preference. I don't intend to take sides."

Earlier, U. S. Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) said he "expects" President Eisenhower to come into Michigan "within the next two months" to help the Republican campaign, and notably Ferguson's.

Ferguson's aides said the senator's expectation was a certainty.

Candidates Spar

Gov. Williams and Leonard sparred gracefully on the hot windy racetrack in the highlight of the day.

Williams said he had enjoyed so much being introduced to the Ionia Fair crowd on six occasions that

Injunction Blocks Strike Of Atomic Plant Workers

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (P) — Officials reported "business as usual" today at strike-threatened atomic plants here and at Paducah, Ky. CIO production workers, who had threatened to strike today as the key atomic plants to enforce demands for pay raises, backed down in the face of a federal court injunction issued Wednesday night.

The plants produce all of a vital ingredient for atomic and hydrogen bombs in this country.

Spokesmen for both sides said there were no disturbances as the day shift reported for work and that it was "business as usual" at the atomic plants.

The Taft-Hartley injunction was whipped out Wednesday night by U. S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor at nearby Knoxville to block the strike of 4,500 workers ordered for 8 a. m. today. The move came just hours after President Eisenhower said the government could not permit a work stoppage at the plants for reasons of national security.

80-Day Cooling Period

The injunction provides for an 80-day cooling off period in which the workers continue on the jobs and management is barred from holding a lockout while negotiations continue.

Elwood Hain, regional representative of the union from Atlanta, Ga., accepted service of the injunction Wednesday night for both locals.

This was the second time the Taft-Hartley law has been invoked to stop a strike of the same workers. President Eisenhower ordered the injunction early last month, but the workers went back to their jobs voluntarily.

Asked 21 Cent Raise

The Oak Ridge local of the CIO United Gas, Coke and Chemical

Acreage Control Called Illegal By Poultry Farmer

PHILADELPHIA (P) — An 81-year-old Pennsylvania poultry farmer has asked the U. S. District Court to declare unconstitutional the price and acreage control features of the Federal Farm and Marketing Administration Acts.

In a suit filed with the court Wednesday, Joseph Blatner claimed that acreage controls on his wheat crop will put him out of business.

Blatner, claiming he reseeded all his land to raise feed for his chickens, seeded eight extra acres and refuses to pay $178.20 in penalties imposed by federal farm agents.

Blatner contends that the government, by serving the penalty notice, is taking his property without due process of law.

Workers, has asked a raise of 21 cents an hour, then scaled demands down to 15 cents, from Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Co. operator of both Paducah and Oak Ridge plants. Oak Ridge employs about 3,500 CIO production hands and Paducah about 1,000.

U. S. Asst. Atty. Gen. Warren E. Burger, flew in from Washington Wednesday night on the President's request and asked for the injunction after Oak Ridge workers broke off day-long negotiations and called the strike.

Paducah workers had voted Tuesday night to strike today.

The plants produce this country's entire supply of uranium-235, necessary to the manufacture of hydrogen and atomic weapons.

6-Cent Raise Offered

Contract talks first broke off last April 15. The Atomic Energy

Labor Relations panel took over and recommended a raise of six cents. The raise was rejected and the CIO went on strike and set up picket lines. Supervisory employees kept plans running until a truce agreement was reached.

Present hourly wage scale at the plants is $1.58 to $2.40. AFL workers at Oak Ridge, also involved in the demands for more money, have asked 19 cents an hour and have refused the six-cent compromise.

The labor picture here was further muddled when about 1,600 AFL electricians walked off two separate atomic construction jobs Wednesday. The walkout and a strike of all 77 AFL painters on one of the construction jobs were in no way related to the wage dispute involving the production workers.

Aluminum Boat Found; 3 Men Still Missing

MANISTIQUE—The aluminum boat in which three Illinois fishermen were last seen Tuesday on Indian Lake was found last night near Harrison Beach but no trace has been found of the missing men.

They are James A. Hook, 69, and his two sons, James E., 39, and William, 25. The father and son William are Chicago mason contractors. The other son, James, lives in Barry, Ill.

The three men and their families were staying at Louis Hamerstrom's Happy Landing resort on the east side of Indian Lake.

A helicopter from Kinross Air Base arrived this morning to aid in the search but the helicopter pilot did not locate the men after making more than a dozen tours of the lake. The helicopter search will continue.

Missing Boat Found

In the meantime, searching parties are dragging the lake in an effort to locate the bodies of the missing men.

After Arvin Carlstrom sighted a shiny object in the water Hamerstrom confirmed it as the stern bottom of the missing boat. G. Leslie Bouschor, in front of whose residence the craft was sighted, waded out to the 14-foot boat and towed it to shore with the aid of others. The Bouschor cottage is situated at the east end of the lake.

Wednesday morning the oars, gas can and minnow bucket belonging to the men were found near the Bouschor site. Tuesday afternoon the life preservers of the missing three were discovered through an alarm was not sounded until 10 p. m. that evening.

Boat Stuck

The boat when found was stuck, stern towards shore, in the sand about 100-yards off the beach. It was without the 10-horsepower motor it had when the fishing trip began. Also missing was the anchor, and the anchor-rope had been frayed and broken.

Originally, according to Hamerstrom, the rope was new and 30-feet long. It was tied to a bell-shaped anchor. The only other thing found in the craft was the disc from the end of the motor clamp-screw. The boat was constructed with air-pockets in it.

When the men left, they were not dressed for rough weather, according to their wives. One was wearing a sweatshirt, another a light jacket and the third a raincoat over light clothes. All were believed in excellent physical condition.

The Schoolcraft County Sheriff's office, the local State Police, City policemen, Conservation Department officers, local resort owners and many volunteers joined in the search.

Taylor Prepares Comeback Campaign, Clears First Hurdle

POCATELLO, Idaho (P) — After a day or two for rest and repairs to his sound truck, it will be back to beating the bushes with an occasional song and a steady attack on administration foreign policy for Glen H. Taylor, former singing cowboy senator from Idaho.

"There is no substitute for hard work," said the man who put his job on the block when he bolted the Democratic party to run for Vice President on the Progressive party ticket of Henry Wallace in 1948.

Taylor Tuesday made the first big hurdle in his attempt at a political comeback when he won the Democratic nomination for senator in the state's primary election. His victory over political science instructor Claude Burtshaw put him opposite the veteran Republican Sen. Henry Dworshak this fall.

State Will Sell Confiscated Guns

LANSING (P) — Confiscated firearms will be sold to the highest bidders at the annual Conservation Department disposal sale at Lansing Sept. 9.

The department said 81 rifles and shotguns will be sold under the bid system.

Persons interested in submitting bids can obtain lists describing the weapons from the department's field administration division at Lansing.

Decline Halted, Mid-Year Report To Nation Shows

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (P) — President Eisenhower declared today that a recent decline in the state of America's economic health had "come to a halt" by the middle of this year. He said prospects for the future look good.

Making public an administration mid-year economic survey, the President said the "recent economic decline" has been "very small."

The Eisenhower report said activity of late "has been higher than at any time before this administration assumed responsibility."

Political Ammunition

The President declared: "And since 1953 was a still better year than 1954 is turning out to be, it follows that over-all performance of the American economy thus far during this administration has been better than during any earlier time."

Eisenhower said 1952 was the best year before his regime took office.

The administration survey in this congressional election year seemed certain to provide political ammunition during the campaign for both Republicans and Democrats.

Last winter some Democrats were contending that, with unemployment increasing, the administration was leading the nation into a depression.

Economic Upswing

Eisenhower and other Republican leaders disagreed sharply with the Democrats, and there have been GOP contentions lately that the over-all economic activity was on the upswing.

The President said in today's report that unemployment "is now greater than during the time of the Korean War."

But at the time he said joblessness in recent months has not been larger than in comparable months of 1949 and 1950.

"Moreover," he said, "the rate of unemployment has shown some tendency to diminish of late. This is one of the numerous signs of economic improvement."

Retail Sales Rising

Among other such signs Eisenhower said, are these:

"Retail sales have been recently rising again. Business expenditures on capital expansion and improvement are continuing at a high rate. New construction contracts are running well above the level of a year ago.

"Inventories have been reduced and are now in better adjustment to current sales. The financial markets have been displaying great strength. The level of business and consumer confidence in the economic future is high and improving."

Looks With Confidence

The President said the economic program being enacted by the present Congress "marks a milestone in constructive legislation." He said the program, which he did not detail, will help reduce unemployment and stimulate enterprise.

Dr. Olsen Indicted On Narcotics Fraud Charge

Dr. Walter J. Olsen, 45, of 316 S. 5th St., is at liberty today on $5,000 bond for his appearance in U. S. District Court at Milwaukee to answer to a narcotics fraud charge.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Dewey Hansen of Marquette arrested Dr. Olsen at Gladstone about 6 p. m. yesterday after Dr. Olsen had paid a fine for reckless driving imposed by Justice A. T. Solberg.

The $5,000 bond for Dr. Olsen's appearance in U. S. District Court at Milwaukee was approved today in Marquette by U. S. Commissioner Roscoe W. Baldwin, according to Hansen.

Prescription Fraud

Hansen said that he did not know when Dr. Olsen is scheduled to appear in Milwaukee for answer to the charge. The arrest was made on a warrant stating that Dr. Olsen is:

"Wanted in Milwaukee to answer to an indictment charging him with falsifying prescriptions to defraud the United States in writing prescriptions for morphine sulphate in violation of Section 494, Title 18, of the U. S. Code."

Dr. Olsen was located in Sturgeon Bay prior to moving to Escanaba. He has visited in Escanaba a number of times before coming here.

In July 5 Accident

His arrest on the narcotics fraud charge followed his arraignment in Justice Solberg's court at Gladstone on a charge of reckless driving, outgrowth of an auto accident on July 5 in which Miss Marquita Lieungh of Escanaba was killed.

Miss Lieungh, 26, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thor Lieungh, and her sister, Verle Lieungh Lodeen of Escanaba, were passengers in Dr. Olsen's car when it hit another car and rolled 77 feet on US-41 two miles south of the Delta-Aurora county line.

Dr. Olsen also was injured and received treatment at St. Francis Hospital. A coroner's jury reported Dr. Olsen as negligent but held the evidence insufficient for prosecution.

On complaint of Michigan State Police of Gladstone, Dr. Olsen was charged with reckless driving. Late yesterday a no contest plea was entered for him through counsel and Justice Solberg imposed a fine of $100 and costs of $7.50, which were paid.

Ban Bike Riding On Ludington Sidewalks

Bicycle riders today were warned by Escanaba Police Chief Jack Finn that they are prohibited from riding their bicycles on Ludington Street sidewalks.

Complaints have also been received by the department that besides riding on the sidewalk in violation of city ordinance, the bicycles are parked in front of shop entrances, said the police chief.

Bicycles may be parked only on the sidewalk at the edge of the curb, so as not to obstruct the sidewalk more than is necessary.

Hayfever Season Worse Than Usual

LANSING (AP)—The State Health Department had some bad news hayfever sufferers today.

The department said the hayfever season—which generally begins about Aug. 15—will be worst than usual this year.

A greater amount of ragweed, the chief irritant, can be anticipated because vegetation is generally more abundant due to increased rainfall.

The ragweed season, starting in mid-August, will last until the first killing frost, the department said.

Medication can provide temporary relief, health experts advised. But the best advice, they said, is—"Go north"—since relief from the irritant of ragweed generally can be found in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It took process servers 14 years to catch up with Sally Rand, the fan dancer.

Lawson, hearing Miss Rand was appearing at a home exhibit here, bought a ticket, waited in line, got a smile from Sally and then handed her the summons.

The judgment, for $4,334, has grown with interest to $8,050.

Sault Ordering Equipment For Water Treatment

SAULT STE. MARIE — Equipment for the fluoridation of the Sault's water supply is in the process of being ordered, City Manager Ralph E. Speer announces.

The equipment called a "feeder," will be installed at the pumping station near Sherman Park.

Speer said one part of the chemical will be added to each million parts of water.

This is less than the amount of chlorine added to the city's water supply during the summer peak, he pointed out. The amount of chlorine added is heavier in summer, and is varied according to specifications of the Health Department.

A report showed 1.81 parts of chlorine per million parts of water, to 1.87 parts per million, as an illustration of the variation.

Marquette Child, Run Over By Car, Fatally Injured

MARQUETTE—Thomas Richard Barger, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Barger, Sherman St., was fatally injured at 5:45 Tuesday afternoon when run over by an automobile on Lincoln Ave.

The accident occurred in the block between Sherman and Sheridan Sts. City police said the child was playing in the street with another boy at the time, and was struck and run over by a car operated by Mrs. Marian K. Mitchell, 42, of 601 Main St., Ishpeming.

It was the first traffic fatality in Marquette in well over three years. The last road death in the city occurred on May 24, 1951, and the victim in that accident also was a pedestrian.

Sault Child Polio Patient Taken To Marquette Hospital

Upper Michigan's poliomyelitis case load for 1954 totals nine with the admittance of a Sault Ste. Marie child to St. Luke's Hospital here as a polio patient.

The child a 16-year-old girl, is the second case from Chippewa County. The first, however, was stricken in Lower Michigan.

Other cases, by counties, follow: Marquette, two (including one non-resident case) and Keweenaw, Menominee, Schoolcraft, Gogebic and Mackinac one each. The Mackinac case also is a non-resident.

The severest polio outbreak in Marquette County occurred last year, when there were 73 cases in the county. In the entire Upper Peninsula in 1953 there were 153 cases, third highest number in history.

The U. P.'s worst outbreak was in 1952, when there were 168 persons hit by polio. In 1940 there were 155 cases of the disease.

Price Reduced On Chuck Roast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chuck roast at prices ranging from 4 to 10 cents a pound below last week will be the favorite feature in the nation's food stores this weekend.

And if you're looking for a change in pace, check your local market's price on smoked ham. Numerous stores plan to advertise that item at lower prices.

Meat men point to several other good buys for Sunday dinner—leg of lamb will be down a couple of cents a pound in many cities; there'll be lots of specials on fryers and roasting chickens, and legs and rumps of veal will be on the bargain counter again.

Prime ribs reduced by some stores at reductions of two to four cents a pound, but in most areas price tags will remain the same as last week. Reflecting rising wholesale prices, pork chops will be a bit higher in many outlets.

Beef went up slightly at wholesale this week, but there seems to be no likelihood of a sharp rise ahead. Supplies will be large for the rest of the year, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It's opening a campaign to get people to eat more beef, and from Sept. 30 to Oct. 9 will be joined by the vegetable trade in a campaign featuring beef and potatoes, onions.

THE STORY. Texas cowboys tear apart the town of Sage City, following payday after driving a herd to Kansas. Fighting to make the wide-open trail town law abiding is Luke Miller, the editor of a newspaper, but Jacob Fugger, who owns most of the businesses in town, strives to keep the saloons and gambling dives going. Wes Tancred, the man who shot Sam Older, works for Miller under the name of John Bailey. A recent complication is the shooting by Manny Harpending, one of the Texas cowboys, of a local gambler, Manny must be arrested, says Fugger, but the marshal has resigned rather than tackle the job.

Harpending and his friends were now the rulers of Sage City. They yipped and whooped and fired their guns at random, crashing a store window here and there. Then Harpending decided to pay a visit to Jacob Fugger. He assumed that he would find him in the latter's store and rode his horse up onto the sidewalk with the intention of riding right into the store. But the doorway was not high enough and he dismounted, leaving the horse in front of the door.

That was the moment Wes Tancred stepped out of the Bon Ton Cafe, across the street from Fugger's Store. He saw Harpending, gun in hand, plunge into Fugger's place.

Tancred started swiftly across the street. One of Harpending's friends sent his horse forward to cut off Tancred.

"Where do you think you're going?" he demanded.

"Into the store, where else?"

The cowboy noted the lack of armament on Tancred. His code forbade him to shoot an unarmed man and while he hesitated as to how to stop Tancred, the latter went past him into the store.

Inside Fugger's Store, Harpending was advancing toward the rear. On the right, Laura Vesser watched his progress with trepidation. Two other clerks, one a middle-aged woman, the other an elderly man, were backing away before Harpending. "I want to see the old coot," Harpending was saying. "He told the marshal to arrest me and I wanna know why."

Bill Bleek came down the stairs from the perch in the rear of the store.

"Get out of here, Harpending if you know what's good for you."

"Well, if it ain't Mr. Fugger's errand boy," sneered Harpending. "And without a gun as usual."

"I don't fight with guns," Bleek retorted, "but if you'll put down your own gun, I'll break every bone in your body."

Harpending raised his rifle, took a careless shot at Bill Bleek. The bullet missed by inches but stopped Bleek on the stairs.

Laura Vesser could not repress a little scream and thus called Harpending's attention to her.

"Hey, what's this? Purtiest girl I've seen in Kansas," He swerved and headed toward Laura Vesser.

At that moment Tancred entered the store. Harpending did not see him. He continued toward Laura.

"I'm a ring-tailed civet cat," declared Harpending. "Here—gimme a kiss."

He had reached the counter and suddenly lunged across it. Laura dodged and started away behind the counter. Harpending wheeled to follow and walked into the swiftly advancing Tancred. Harpending yelped in surprise, tried to lever a fresh cartridge into the chamber of the rifle, but Tancred grabbed it savagely out of his hands and threw it to the floor. Harpending went for his revolver, but it never cleared the holster.

Tancred's fist smashed into Harpending's face. He crossed with a savage blow into the midriff and as Harpending folded forward Tancred hit him the third and last time, on the jaw. Harpending collapsed.

Tancred stooped and grabbing Harpending by the belt yanked him. Bleek came forward.

"If you ain't the hero," he snarled.

Tancred shot him a look of complete contempt and propelled the half-conscious Harpending to the door. He whipped it open with his left hand, then braced up Harpending with both hands.

"Here's your friend," he said to the men outside the door.

He shoved Harpending violently forward. The Texas man caromed off one of the horses, hit the hitch-rail and fell on his face in the street.

The three friends of Harpending stared. Harpending was their leader. His downfall filled them with consternation. One of them half pulled a gun on Tancred, but lacking Harpending's lead he let the gun slide back.

Tancred did not even look back. He went stiffly down the sidewalk, past the hotel. Chuck Gorey, having peered out of the saloon, was coming cautiously out of the saloon. He stared at Tancred in amazement.

"Is that Harpending back there?" he asked.

Tancred nodded his head carelessly, went past Gorey.

Tancred continued on to the corner, turned and entered the print shop.

"What's all the shooting?" Luke Miller asked.

"Just the usual," Tancred replied.

But it wasn't more than 10 minutes before Miller had the complete story from a witness.

Miller wrote it all down and made certain to give the copy to Mose Hudkins to set up. In the meantime, Tancred was setting up the type for Miller's editorial.

The last copy of the Star was taken away from the press by Mrs. Miller shortly after four o'clock and Tancred read the

Editorials—

Is Dr. Otto John A Traitor, Nationalist Fanatic Or Fool?

IS Dr. Otto John, the West German security officer who deserted to Communist East Germany, a traitor, a nationalist fanatic or simply a plain fool?

Even before Dr. John appeared before more than 400 correspondents at a press conference and told his story of his flight behind the iron curtain, it was quite obvious that he had not been kidnapped. The story of the border guard who identified Dr. John when he went into the East zone and Dr. John's later broadcasts from East Germany pretty well dissipated the story that the security officer had been kidnapped and dragged behind the iron curtain.

But why did Dr. John do it? At his press conference yesterday he said that he chose to leave West Germany because he felt that the United States was dragging the West into a war with Russia from which Germany would be the major sufferer. He said that the European Defense Command was an American conspiracy to prevent the reunion of Germany.

If Dr. John really believes that, he is a colossal fool. It seems more apparent that he made his flight to the East in a moment of great pique. The Western Allies had become suspicious of Dr. John's loyalty and they began checking up on him. When he learned that he was being shadowed, he joined the other side.

The public may never know how many lives have been lost because of Dr. John's defection to the East. He knew the names of most of the Allied intelligence agents in the Eastern zone and those who are unable to sneak out are almost certainly fingered for death.

Of course it is ridiculous to lay the blame for tensions in Europe on the United States as Dr. John has done. The troubles in Europe, as elsewhere in the world, are troubles that are the direct result of Russian aggression, an objective of Communism to engulf the world.

It has been the United States, not Soviet Russia, that has provided the means for German rehabilitation after the war. Russia, on the contrary, has held the East Germans in subjugation and at near starvation rations. Is this the choice that Dr. John prefers for all of Germany?

Sweetness And Light

WHEN a sugar refining company proposed to erect a huge advertising sign near the East River shore across from United Nations headquarters in New York, a great howl went up.

The city fathers ignored the noise and approved the sign. But the company didn't care for the sounds of protest. It listened carefully as UN officials declared they would just as soon get their sweetness and light some other way.

In fact, the sugar company gave up the idea completely, and instead donated $2500 toward a study of ways in which the East River shore can be improved.

Who says the UN has no power?

Questions and Answers

Q—I'm retired. Under the new social security bill, would I lose my old-age benefit checks if I make much more than $1,000 a year?

A—Not necessarily, according to the interpretation social security analysts place on the version of the bill passed by the House June 1. The bill says a person can make $1,000 in a year without losing any benefits, and one month's benefits would be lost for each $80 he made over $1,000. But, it adds, in no case would he lose benefits for months in which he neither earned more than $80 in wages nor performed substantial service working for himself. This provision is interpreted by specialists to mean that a beneficiary could, for instance, earn $400 in each of the first six months of the year (losing his benefits for those months) and still receive his benefits for the last six months if he didn't work during the second half of the year.

Q—Has the Eisenhower Administration continued to support major foreign policy programs begun under the Truman Administration?

A—The Eisenhower Administration has backed some "carryover" programs. Examples include support for the United Nations and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (Atlantic Pact); formation of a European Defense Community; development of Middle Eastern mutual security pacts; and containment of communism in Southeast Asia and Korea. There have been some changes, and perhaps the most debated is the "new look" defense policy. This was described by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles as placing dependence primarily upon a "great capacity to retaliate, instantly, by means and at places of our own choosing."

A Texas man succeeded in losing 120 pounds through regular exercises. That's what we call pot luck.

It makes our mouth water when we think how soon the pumpkins will be looking pie-eyed.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Lots of words have been written and charges flung into the air in recent weeks about the alleged encroachment on the executive branch of the government by the junior senator from Wisconsin, and it is a salutary development that six senators of judicial or legal experience have been appointed to study this, among other supposed infractions of senatorial right.

For the truth is the American people in large part have been misled as to the real issue involved and have given the impression that a virtual dictatorship exists in the United States whereby the executive can put any government employee in jail for giving to Congress any information to which the executive may think the Congress is not entitled. There is not the slightest basis in the statutes of the United States for the exercise of any such alleged authority.

The United States code provides under Section 632:

"The right of persons employed in the civil service of the United States, either individually or collectively, to petition Congress, or any member thereof, or to furnish information to either house of Congress, or to any committee or member thereof, shall not be denied or interfered with."

BROAD GRANT OF AUTHORITY This is the broad grant of authority to employees of the executive branch of the government, and it is in line with the constitutional rights given to all citizens to petition Congress or to exercise their right of free speech.

But this is necessarily qualified by other provisions of law of a specific nature which are designed to prevent transmission of information to anyone who might use it to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of any foreign government.

Thus a long series of provisions have been enacted, in Title 18 (Section 794) U. S. code, which forbid the transmission of what might be called confidential or secret information, especially that relating to national defense. But these cover specifically two classes of cases. First there are the instances in which the executive employee "willfully transmits information to outsiders for the purpose of aiding a foreign government or with the object of 'doing injury to the United States.'"

Then, second, there are the instances in which the executive employee willfully transmits information which he knows or has reason to believe "could be used to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of any foreign government."

WHO IS ENTITLED? But it must be proven that the persons to whom the information is transmitted are "not entitled to receive it."

Who is entitled to receive information inside the government of the United States? Are members of Congress not entitled to receive information relative to the conduct of the executive agencies of the government whose appropriations and operations they are, under the constitution supposed to examine as a public duty? Where is the specific provision of law that prohibits any information from being transmitted to members of Congress?

If an executive employee feels that his department head, in suppressing information, is doing injury to the United States and decides to give it to a member of Congress in confidence—and this has been done many times—the employee certainly is not transmitting it to injure but rather to defend the United States.

Senator McCarthy said publicly that he felt the 2,000,000 federal employees had a duty to give to Congress any information that would protect the government. That was the issue in the case of the document on personnel of doubtful background which an officer in the Defense Department gave to the Wisconsin senator. Incidentally, the senator never made public the document itself.

COURT RULE REQUIRED Before the Senate's special committee, therefore, can decide whether any wrong was committed by exhorting federal employees to furnish information which they believed would protect the United States, it would be necessary to have a federal court rule on the question of intent in each specific case of a federal employee who transmitted such information to a member of Congress.

Certainly the appeal by the Wisconsin senator to federal employees to tell members of Congress about graft, corruption, the covering up of spies or any other piece of wrongdoing they know about affecting personnel is so broad that it is doubtful whether individual members of Congress can be censured or penalized for trying to do what the constitution orders them collectively to do—to "make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces" and "to make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers and all other powers vested by the constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof."

It could hardly be argued that Congress must legislate without information and that the executive can arbitrarily by an executive order prevent any employees from furnishing to members of Congress information necessary for the performance of their legislative duties.

White House Echoes To Patter Of Footsteps; 5,000 Gawk Daily

By KENNETH O. GILMORE

WASHINGTON (NEA)—One day Mamie Eisenhower peered down at a long line of people waiting to take a tour of the White House and exclaimed to a companion: "Just think of all those folks wanting to see our home."

This is not surprising. Mamie and her husband happen to maintain Washington's top tourist attraction. Every weekday within the short space of two hours, more than 5,000 gawking sight-seers are hustled through a small part of the world-famous building the Eisenhowers call home.

Between Easter and the end of the summer, showing off the White House is a mass production operation with the main emphasis on speed. When a young couple paused a minute to gaze with wonderment at the plush decoration of the Blue Room, a guard immediately called out, "Move along, no stopping please."

A visit to the White House does not mean the kids can bounce on the President's bed or that Mamie will be on hand to swap recipes with the little lady. A lot of tourists expect such a reception. But despite her impersonality, fast pace and huge crowds, everyone gets a tremendous kick out of being able to step into the White House.

At 10 in the morning, thousands line up outside the East Wing waiting for the gates to open. Young and old, they come from every state in the Union to see for themselves what kind of an establishment the President has. "Is Mamie here now?" a hopeful woman asks one of the uniformed Secret Service policemen.

"Yes, ma'am," he replies. "Gee, you don't suppose it's possible for me to see her or Ike, do you?"

"I'm afraid not," he says with a perfectly straight face.

This is not unusual, for many people are surprised and disappointed they can't drop in and say hello to the Eisenhowers.

"Where is the Blair House?" is another frequent question policemen have to answer. Tourists are still interested in seeing where a Truman lived for over three years while the White House was being renovated.

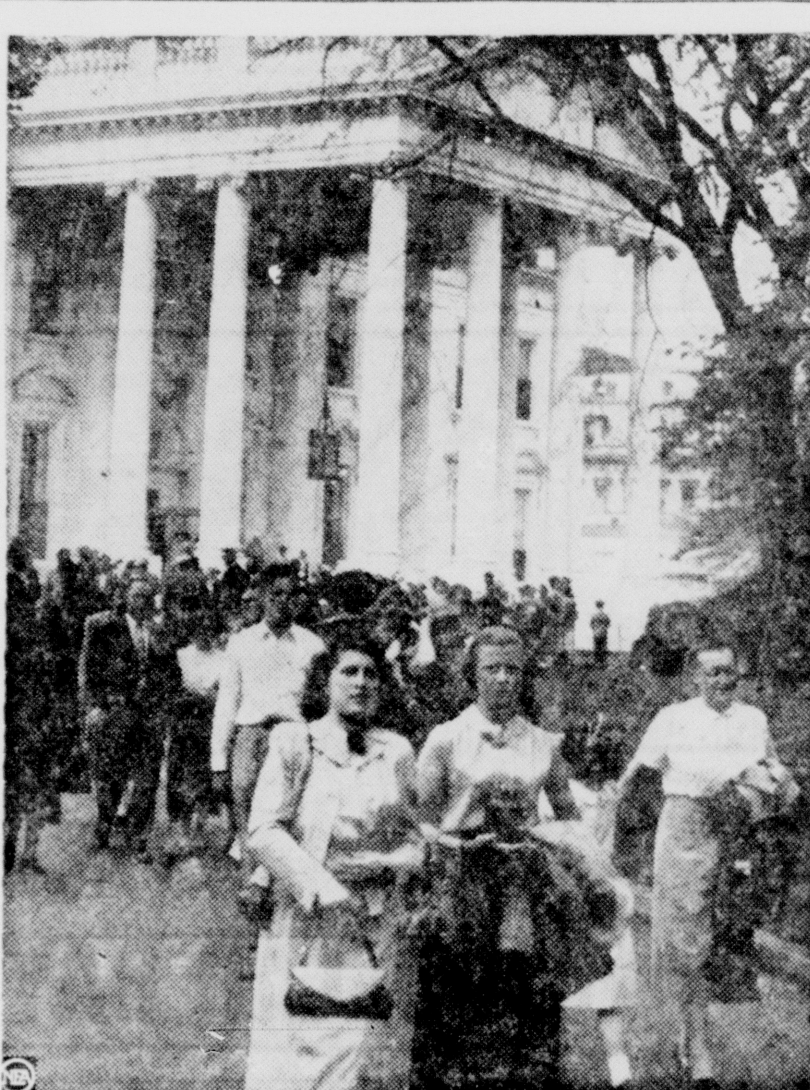

Most of the guards and especially the old-timers can anticipate what questions will be asked, but sometimes they're put on the spot. One Secret Service man tells of the time a lady demanded to know who was the 16th President of the U. S.

Tourists enter the White House via the East Wing. After passing through a colonnade they are able to view the State Dining Room, the Red, Blue, and Green Rooms and the East Room.

The trip winds up on the front lawn. Here, at last, they have a chance to take pictures of themselves with the impressive columned balcony of the White House in the background. The whole scene is like an amateur photographers' convention.

The elegant interior of the Presidential household draws numerous responses. One domestic type whispered to her friend, "My goodness, how would you like your home to be on display every day like this?"

A group of Girl Scouts uttered

SIGHT-SEERS AT THE WHITE HOUSE: It's a mass production operation, with the main emphasis on speed.

at a lacy Gay Nineties painting of Mrs. William Howard Taft. Those who had been through before noted small changes with an air of a critical mother-in-law. Another person wondered where the dome was, obviously having gotten the White House and the Capitol Building mixed up.

That's the American public, taking a peek at the first house in the land.

Willie Got To Say Say-Hey On Platter

By NEA Service

NEW YORK (NEA)—"It'll never go," said the big record executive. "Songs about real people never get off the ground."

That was a few months ago. Maybe that executive is singing another tune nowadays. And the tune he might be singing is called, "Say, Hey." It's a song about a "real people"—the New York Giants' slugging center-fielder, Willie Mays — and it looks like it might get off the ground.

In fact, some record people feel that "Say Hey" may be the hit song of the summer. The summer season is always pretty slow in the record field, and this summer, 1954, is about as slow as any have ever been. So "Say, Hey" seems like a good bet to wake up the juke boxes and cause a little happy noise.

The song is the first product of a new song-writing team, and one-half of that team had never before even tried to write a song.

That half is Dick Kleiner, conductor of the NEA Service entertainment column, "The Marquee." The other half is Jane Douglas, who has several recorded songs to her credit, notably "Have a Heart," which Julius LaRosa recorded. She also wrote the official WAC song while serving in that branch during World War II.

Kleiner and Miss Douglas were introduced by Ted Warner, a New York press agent who takes Negro ball — players on barnstorming tours after each baseball season. He suggested that a song about the sensational Mays, whose catch-phrase, "Say, Hey," was getting a big ride in the press, might be a good thing.

Kleiner had never tried his hand at a song lyric, but he sat down and over one spring weekend, wrote the words to "Say, Hey." Miss Douglas, over the next weekend, set the words to music.

Warner and his friend, music publisher Jack Spina, tried for several months to interest record companies in the song. They had a demonstration record, featuring young baritone Jimmy Randolph, but there were still no takers.

No takers, that is until Warner played the "demo" for Marv Holtzman, director of artists and repertoire for Epic Records, an affiliate of Columbia. As they say along what's left of Tin Pan Alley, "Holtzman 'flipped' for the song. That means he liked it.

But he said, "We'll do it if you can get me Willie Mays to appear on the record."

Warner, who isn't a Broadway press agent for nothing, immediately said, "Sure, I'll get Willie." And then he proceeded to get him.

Mays and a rhythm and blues singing group called The Treniers made the record for Epic, and a hit was born.

See, it's easy.

By CLINT DUNATHAN

MUST BE DIFFERENT—Down in Illinois the American Legion in State Convention voted to withdraw its support from the Girl Scouts of America because the GSA harbors "un-American influences."

Protesting the motion, Lawrence J. Fenlon, a former commander of the Illinois American Legion, demanded: "How screwy can we get?"

He was talking about the American Legion of course. But the Legion in Illinois must be different than that in other states (or the Girl Scouts are different, or something), because it was only the Illinois Legion that has found anything "un-American" in the GSA.

Just how screwy can we get? Fenlon asks, and nobody answered him. That question deserves answer, however, because the slander against the Girl Scouts by the Illinois American Legion is a scandalous and shameful thing.

Completely lacking in charity, the Illinois Legionnaires purposefully and with full knowledge of the harm its motion would do, publicly accused the Girl Scouts of America of harboring "un-American influences." No good can ever come from such scatter-gun attacks.

PATRIOT'S DEATH—Just how screwy can we get in America? What condition of hysteria is responsible for the Legion's slander against the Girl Scouts?

And we might question the Illinois Legion's motive in the attack on an organization whose program is as patriotic and highly respected as that of the American Legion. Was publicity the goal? If so, it was successful—but at what cost to the good name of the Girl Scouts?

There can be no profit to the American Legion, either in Illinois or nationally, in accusing another patriotic and beneficial organization of harboring subversive "influences." Patriots lose stature when they slay fictitious enemies on the front pages of newspapers.

And when cranks and rabble-rousers take over the leadership in even the most patriotic of organizations, there is grave danger that what they most seek to preserve by name they have already killed by example.

KEEP AMERICA STRONG—One of the dismaying aspects of the attack on the Girl Scouts is that it is done in the name of Americanism.

Doesn't fair play, freedom from persecution and name-calling come under the heading of Americanism?

Isn't it un-American to base accusations on partial information? Sentences lifted from context, excerpts that ignore paragraphs that preceded and followed?

Is America to be kept strong by baseless charges against a body of Americans as fine as the Girl Scouts? Has America benefitted by the action of the Illinois Legionnaires?

The Legion should consider such questions and seek the underlying truth of America's greatness—its foundation of justice and liberty for all.

THE GREAT FEAR—Perhaps the hysteria of the times reveals the fever of fear afflicting so many of our people.

The fear is expressed all too often in wild and irresponsible statements, blustering attitudes and attacks on good American citizens. A fear of Russia, for example, should not result in accusations against the Girl Scouts. But it did, because fear can rob the mind of reason as effectively as it can drain strength from the body.

Certainly there is every reason why America must be on guard, both within and without its borders. Only the most thoughtful citizen would believe otherwise.

The defense of America can be effective, however, only if it is reasoned and calculated. Fear-dominated individuals or groups, hysterically seeking subversives and pointing trembling fingers, can only bring confusion and division.

Which brings us back to the purpose of this column—a defense of the Girl Scouts of America. We do not believe there is anything subversive in the organization, nor will any American who knows its purpose or its program.

To be charitable (the Illinois Legionnaires were not) we must conclude the slander voiced against the Girl Scouts was generated either by fear or ignorance. Neither are attributes becoming to patriots.

The Doctor Says . . .

Don't Go Swimming for at Least an Hour After Eating

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Swimming for pleasure (or to get cooled off) is indulged in by millions. It is a good and healthful sport.

If there is no physical reason to avoid it, such as a bad heart, if the water is not too cold, and if a few sensible precautions are taken, it is about as good a summer sport as we have.

It is never wise to swim alone. Even a strong and experienced swimmer can develop muscular cramps, become tangled in sunken obstacles or otherwise get into trouble. Some drownings come from this kind of carelessness because no one is around to help or call for aid.

DROWNINGS ALSO come from swimming in unsupervised areas whether they are ponds, rivers, lakes or the ocean. In many of these the water is deeper or colder than expected and they often have submerged rocks, step-offs, or other hazards. Tides may be stronger than swimmers. Diving in such places is particularly dangerous. Far too many reckless youngsters have broken their necks by diving, perhaps on a bet, into some place which they thought was deep but turned out to be shallow. Allergy to cold is probably responsible for some drownings too.

IT IS SOMEWHAT alarming how many people, particularly youngsters, seem to ignore the old rule concerning the danger of swimming after eating. When a person eats, considerable amounts of body blood gathers around the stomach to aid in digestion and is therefore not available to the muscles used in swimming or to keep the body warm.

Of course, a lot of people get away with this hazardous practice but cramps are much more likely immediately after eating, and if they occur in deep water drowning is by no means unlikely.

It should be a hard and fast rule not to go swimming for at least an hour after eating and longer if the meal has been a heavy one.

ONE EXPERIENCED swimmer who has done guard duty told me that an important cause of drowning is alarm or excitement on the part of the swimmer who gets into a little trouble.

The fear exhausts the swimmer and he is less likely to use his head in getting out of the difficulty. This is a good point. It never helps to get panicky when in trouble.

It is a rare summer Sunday or holiday which passes without one or more unfortunate deaths from drowning. And the worst of it is that these deaths are so unnecessary; just a little more care and they could have been prevented.

W. L. Strom Is Demo Chairman

Wheaton L. Strom was elected chairman of the Delta County Democratic Committee Wednesday by the candidates for public office from the county.

Other members of the committee who were elected include: First Vice Chairman Esther Meier; Second Vice Chairmen Thomas Cleary, Adam Sinclair, William Morrow, Andrew J. Robare, Claude Tobin Jr., Arnold Alsten, Walter Mantie; Secretary James Doran; Treasurer Grace Taylor. The committee will serve for two years.

Over 200 delegates were named and authorized to attend the Democratic State Convention to be held on Aug. 14 at Grand Rapids. It was resolved that the delegation shall cast the 14 votes allotted to Delta County according to the unit rule with each delegate attending having a fraction of the total number of votes allowed. A majority vote of the delegates attending will govern the casting of the 14 votes as a unit.

Seven resolutions were passed by the county convention and will be taken to the state convention by the delegates. Two of the resolutions acknowledged the loss suffered by the party by the deaths of Gerald J. Cleary, former Delta County Committee chairman and Blair Moody, candidate for U. S. Senator.

The other resolutions were individual endorsements of the Democratic candidates in the November election. They are: G. Mennen Williams, governor; Patrick McNamara, senator; Phillip A. Hart, lieutenant governor; Harold Beaton, state representative; Edward Gibbs, state senator.

Three additional local resolutions were adopted endorsing the candidates for county offices, and thanking various party members for their contributions to the party.

Pram Sailing Finals Set For Labor Day

Barbara Gasman and Fred Erickson each captured a first place in pram sailing races at Escanaba's yacht harbor yesterday. Barbara's win gives her the lead in the junior division for total number of points earned to date.

The five-boat race for the 13-16 year-old skippers was a close contest, the second pram trailing the winner across the finish line 9 seconds later. In this division, Dave Johnson still holds first place on total points for the season. For points won per race entered, the averages now stand as follows: Fred Erickson 3.4, Dave Johnson 3.0, Ray Walsh 2.7, and Sandy Sundstrom 2.5.

Finals for both divisions will be run off during the Labor Day weekend. The finals for each group will be between the skipper with the highest point total and the one with the highest average per race entered.

During the EYC club meeting last night, members made plans for other yachting activities on the schedule this month. These include a moonlight sailing party on Saturday, the annual sailboat race to Gladstone for the Bissell Trophy, and a new contest for outboard and other power boats. Dates and details concerning these events are to be announced soon.

Reds Open Campaign To Cut Out Cussing

MOSCOW (AP)—The big Soviet press campaign to clean up Russia's morals has taken a new tack. Cut out the cussing, the men are told.

Komsomol Pravda, the organ of the Soviet Communist Youth League, is spearheading the effort to slash profane and vulgar language.

A drive against drunkenness and hooliganism already has been going on several months with good results, the papers claim.

Now Komsomol Pravda has cast a disapproving glance toward the Urals industrial center of Sverdlovsk. The youth paper spread over two columns a letter from a Sverdlovsk citizen complaining of vulgarities heard about town. "Clean these evil words out of our rich, expressive language," the paper admonished.

Poor Attendance Fault Of Churches, Says Charles Taft

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A leading American Episcopal layman says that the church itself is to blame for keeping members at home on Sundays by failing to understand their worldly problems.

"Church leaders simply don't know enough about the areas of life where people work," Charles P. Taft told the World Anglican Congress Wednesday night. Taft, a Cincinnati attorney and brother of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, is a former president of the National Council of Churches.

"In 1796 only 10 per cent of our people were church members and 160 years later nearly 59 per cent belong," Taft told the 670 delegates from all parts of the world, "but they don't come to church."

Taft said preachers and theologians "have often little idea how completely unintelligible what is said in the pulpit is to large classes . . . unintelligible in that it makes no effective contact with their experience."

Delta Goes Over Cancer Fund Goal

Final returns on the Delta County cancer campaign indicate a successful drive for 1954. Quota for the county was $4,110.00 and the amount raised was $4,641.32, or 113% of the quota.

Robert Mosenfelder, Escanaba, headed the drive in Delta County and more than 400 volunteer workers carried the appeal for funds to homes and organizations throughout the community.

One half of the amount of money raised remains in Delta County to be used by the local American Cancer Society Unit in a program of service to cancer patients and in education of the public to an awareness of cancer symptoms and the necessity for prompt medical attention.

The remainder of the funds raised goes to the Michigan Division and to the National Division of the American Cancer Society to be used for education of both lay and professional groups and for the vast program of cancer research which is being carried on on the national level.

W. F. Doyle, Michigan Chairman for the 1954 cancer campaign has announced that with a quota of $400,000 the state of Michigan has gone over the half million mark, with a few final reports still to be heard from. The trend throughout the nation showed the exceeding of quotas to be quite general.

Leonard, former state police commissioner, said, "I was a part of the Williams' administration, although I was appointed by one of Gov. Williams' predecessors. I think the people are interested in a discussion of political issues and not in mudslinging and vilification. I pledge to conduct my campaign on that basis. One of us will be back next year and may the best man win."

Ferguson Sets Ovation

Williams told the official luncheon that "I am especially interested in the problems of the farmers because it is becoming more and more difficult for them to get an adequate income. We should all try to help them."

The politicians got food for hours of speculation out of the day. They thought the predominantly Republican luncheon group gave Ferguson the biggest ovation, followed closely by that for Rep. Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso, and then by Leonard.

Touhy Ordered Back To Prison

CHICAGO (AP)—Prison gates will close again Thursday behind Roger Touhy, 55-year-old prohibition gangster, only three days after his dramatic release on a federal court order.

Judge Elmer J. Schnackenberg of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordered Touhy's confinement pending an appeal by the state of that court order.

The news of the Appeals Court order reached Touhy while he was fishing in the Fox Lake region north of Chicago. Accompanied by his attorney, he surrendered in the office of the U. S. Marshal late Wednesday afternoon. "Not very long out," he commented wryly.

Dr. Small Denied Immediate Freedom

ALLEGAN (AP)—A Circuit Court judge today rejected a legal maneuver which would have given immediate freedom to Dr. Kenneth B. Small, Detroit dentist who was acquitted July 17 of slaying his wife's lover. Dr. Small was ordered committed to Ionia State Hospital until he can prove his sanity.

In 1934, Touhy was sentenced to 99 years for the kidnaping of John Factor. Judge Barnes said in his opinion the conviction was based on perjured testimony.

Robert B. Johnstone, Touhy's attorney, said he will test in the U. S. Supreme Court the appeal court's order sending Touhy back to prison pending the appeal.

Johnstone said, however, it might take a year merely to prepare the transcript for the appeal.

"Safety of Society"

Asst. Illinois Atty. Gen. Ben Schwartz in the Appeal Court to put Touhy back in prison pending appeals "for the safety of society."

If the state wins its appeal, said Schwartz, Touhy would face the dreary prospect of spending the

Great Lakes Steels Will Lay Off 1,000

DETROIT (AP)—Great Lakes Steel Corp. plans to lay off 1,000 more employees next week and the company says further layoffs are due.

The firm attributed the newly-announced layoffs to a return to the five-day work week. It cited the agreement with the CIO United Steelworkers which does not provide for sharing work for extended periods of time.

The plant had been on a four-day work week for hourly rated employees since July 25.

About 1,000 other Great Lakes workers, including some supervisory personnel, had been laid off previously.

The company has cut back production in line with a decline in demand for steel from the auto industry.

Michigan Suppliers Getting Business On Bridge Project

LANSING (AP)—The Mackinac Bridge Authority today complimented the contractors building the Mackinac Straits Bridge for placing almost four million dollars in Michigan.

The authority said that Merritt Chapman and Scott, which has a 25 million dollar contract to build the bridge substructure, has placed orders with approximately 80 suppliers in Michigan for everything from bolts and nuts to steam boilers.

In addition, the contractors' weekly payroll in Michigan now approximates 100 thousand dollars, the authority said.

K. O. Doyle Named Judge Advocate By Legion Commander

LANSING (AP)—Kent T. Lundgren of Menominee, newly-elected commander of the Michigan American Legion, today announced the appointment of Kenneth O. Doyle, also of Menominee, as state judge advocate for 1954-55.

Doyle 60, a 35-year member of the legion and a former state commander, has been practicing law since 1917 in the firm established by his father.

Michigan Crop Outlook Bright

LANSING (AP)—Crop conditions in Michigan continue to look generally good. The Federal-State Crop reporting service said today in its monthly summary.

Yields of all field crops are expected to be above average with the exception of flax.

Yields of corn, oats, barley, rye and soybeans are expected to exceed last year. Wheat, hay, field beans, potatoes and flax were predicted to be down from last year.

Farmers had excellent harvest weather during July. Temperatures averaged above normal and most of the rainfall was recorded during the first 10 days and the last day of the month.

Farmers completed putting up their first cuttings of hay during the month and started on second cuttings. The winter wheat harvest was practically completed.

The apple, peach and sour cherry crops were expected to be below last year and average. The pear, sweet cherry, plum and grape crops were predicted to be below last year but above average.

Pasture conditions were good. Milk production for July was estimated at 537 million pounds, up three percent from a year ago and the highest for the month since 1947. Egg production was 10 percent more than a year ago.

Decline Halted, Mid-Year Report To Nation Shows

and development in all directions. "In the months and years ahead, we must continue to bring knowledge, cool judgment, and a concern for people to the consideration of economic problems," the report said. "In the measure that we do this, we may look forward with great confidence to the future."

At the outset of his statement the President declared:

"The paramount fact about the economy at mid-year is that the recent decline in economic activity has come to a halt."

1953 Is Comparative Base

In analyzing the economic activity of the first six months of this year, the President chose as a comparative base the first half of 1953 when he said "our nation was enjoying the greatest prosperity we have known."

Using that yardstick, he went on, "we find that industrial production has been running 8.1 percent lower than in 1953."

But Eisenhower said other criteria must be taken into account—such as gross national product, which expresses the dollar value of the nation's total output of commodities and services; non-agricultural employment; personal income, which is the sum of individual and family income minus personal income tax payments; and bank deposits outside New York City.

The President then cited figures to indicate that gross national product was 2.7 percent less in the first half of this year as compared with the first six months of 1953; non-agricultural employment declined 2.6 percent; personal income was up 0.2 percent; disposable personal income up 1.4 percent and bank deposits, outside New York, up 0.9 percent.

"It is fair to conclude from these facts that the recent economic decline, on an overall basis, has been very small," Eisenhower summed up.

Using the same yardsticks for comparison of the first half of this year with the first half of 1952, the President cited figures intended to show that in each case the picture was better from January through June of this year — as much as 7.2 percent in the case of bank deposits outside of New York. Eisenhower, in rating 1953 as "a still better year than 1954 is turning out to be," said that means "the overall performance of the American economy thus far during this administration has been better than during any earlier time."

Auto Workers To Vote Today

By RELMAN MORIN

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Thousands of Studebaker automotive employees prepared to vote today on an issue of immense potential importance to the whole of American industry — whether to accept a cut in pay so that the company can cut its costs.

Studebaker officials have told local union of the CIO United Auto Workers that the wage adjustments are necessary for competitive reasons.

Union officers who worked out the proposals in lengthy negotiations with the company have urged the membership to accept.

Eliminate Piecework

The reductions would be effected by elimination of piecework and incentive pay.

The cuts amount to an average 14 percent of the payroll.

A union official estimated that the reductions would range from a minimum of $12 to a maximum of $20 per week.

The company contends it is paying an average hourly wage of $2.39, compared with $2.03 by its principal competitors. Studebaker reported a net loss of nearly nine million dollars for the first six months of this year.

Executives Took Cut

Top executives last April accepted salary reductions ranging from 20 to 30 percent on all salaries above $20,000 a year.

Today's balloting is the second vote on the proposal for pay reductions of the other employees.

Nearly 5,000 members of the union a week ago rejected the proposal the vote was "very close." They said, however, that the attendance at the original meeting represented less than half the union's present membership of 10,500.

Two days later, the company gave notice that it would end its present contract with the union in 60 days.

Louis J. Horvath, president of the local, then announced a second meeting would be held to reconsider the proposal. He said the decision to take another vote was made unanimously by the 20-man executive board.

NO REPETITION

Societies of bell ringers in England engage in "change-ringing" of church bells for as long as 12 hours without repeating the sequence in which the bells are struck, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Dave Olive of Stephenson was elected deputy district governor of Region 3, District 10, Lions International, at a regional meeting last night at Fleetwood's Inn, Spaulding.

Zone chairman elected at the meeting are Norman Dahke, Escanaba, zone 1; L. Legois, Menominee, zone 2; and Dan Croci, Iron Mountain, zone 3. Claude Leclerc, Escanaba, was elected secretary.

Stocks Sag Slightly In Light Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market slipped a little lower on balance today in a reaction from the higher performance Wednesday.

Most minus signs in the list were small. Gains went to about a point at the best.

Trading slowed to a rate around 2 1/2 million shares for the day, compared with 3,440,000 shares traded Wednesday.

Among lower stocks were Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Zenith Radio, American Telephone, and Southern Railway.

Higher were Studebaker, Curtis-Wright, Radio Corp., Consolidated Natural Gas, American Tobacco, General Dynamics, Corn Exchange Bank, New York Central, and Kern County Land.

U. S. government bonds were steady.

Auto Industry Plans For 1955

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor
DETROIT (AP)—Most auto industry experts still expect the car makers to build 5 million passenger cars this year.

This view is held despite plans for prolonged model changeover shutdowns and curtailed production schedules by most companies. The experts still are counting on 1954 to be at least the fourth best production year in industry records.

They look upon current activities as aimed chiefly at cleaning up outgoing models so that high level production of 1955 models can be undertaken as quickly as possible after they start rolling from the assembly lines.

Competition anticipated for 1955 may bring some downward price revisions with the introduction of next year's models, but present indications are any such revisions will be of minor proportions.

The car manufacturers have numerous reasons for not cutting retail prices: Most of them are making major styling and engineering improvements that required heavy financial investments; they recently absorbed an increase in the price of steel; they face uncertainties regarding wages through 1955.

Styling changes in the 1955 lines include lower silhouettes and panoramic windshields for many makes, along with numerous new color combinations in two-tone finishes. More V-8 engines, increased horsepower and compression ratios and advances in automatic transmission design are among the engineering changes.

Nobody close to the auto industry questions that 1955 will be a year of tremendous competitive

Hearings Planned On Request For More Cell Space

IONIA (AP)—Legislative leaders agreed today to hold advance hearings next week on Gov. Williams' request for $660,000 to provide emergency cell space at the Ionia Reformatory.

Chairmen of the legislative appropriating committees, after meeting with Williams and corrections officials at the reformatory, were noncommittal on what the special legislative session next Wednesday will do with the governor's request. However, Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), Republican Senate leader, said "this is a much better proposal than the half-baked one submitted to the Little Legislature."

Williams today asked for $660,000 to build a 234-man outside dormitory with individual cubicles for each inmate. The Little Legislature previously had turned down his request for $225,000 to build a 150-man open dormitory.

Ex-Convicts Admit Recent Burglary Of Republic Tavern

NEGAUNEE—State police from the Marquette Post have arrested two ex-convicts for allegedly breaking and entering into Art's Tavern, Republic, and officers said they have obtained a signed confession from one of them.

Arrested were Wallace Gurski, 27, Route 1, Munising, and Walfrid Kangas, 36, Barnum Location, Ishpeming. They are being held in the Marquette County Jail. Munising city police assisted state police in the probe.

Classified Ads cost little but do a big job

Churchmen Gather For Big World Conference

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
EVANSTON, Ill. (P)—Churchmen from the East and the West headed today for a religious arena which is charged with tensions—both religious and political.

The gathering is in the cause of Christianity.
But around this central purpose swirls a haze of doubts and discords that could roll in to frustrate the meeting—the Assembly of the World Council of Churches here, starting Sunday for two weeks.

Dangers and Hopes
“There are dangers, but there also are hopes,” said Dr. G. K. A. Bell, Britain’s Bishop of Chichester and chairman of the council’s central committee.

“The danger in a great body of churches meeting in a time of so much strain, antagonism and hostility is that some may seek to reflect their own political and national points of view.

“But there is hope that they will all come together in a mood to submit various experiences and insights, even ideologies, to the mastership and judgment of Christ.”

Many Problems
Although the council faces a host of touchy social and religious questions, probably the most explosive is the relationship of Christianity and communism, and the presence of delegates from Communist countries.
At least 18 churchmen from Red-ruled lands—from East Germany and 5 each from Hungary and Czechoslovakia—will be among the 1,500 representatives. Others from Poland and Yugoslavia also may attend.

“Communist collaborationists” is the label applied to them by Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.), who says he will hold hearings simultaneously with the assembly to show their “false pretenses.”

He said they are “servants of world communism who masquerade as men of God.”

“Puppets of Communism”
Others, including two Midwestern American Legion posts, also have denounced admission of the delegates. Daniel A. Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, called them “puppets of atheistic communism,” and said:

“Evanston must declare communism anti-religious, anti-Christ and utterly antagonistic to everything for which the church should stand, or Evanston will divide the American Protestant community.”

However, none of the 161 Orthodox, Old Catholic, Anglican and Protestant denominations in 48 countries belonging to the council have opposed representation of the Iron Curtain churches.

The use of modern agricultural chemicals to control insects and diseases boosted alfalfa seed production in California by 600 per cent in just one year.

Conviction Of Theft Held Against Him

DETROIT, Mich. (P)—Samuel Jones, 74 was facing deportation to his native England because he failed to report that he had been convicted of a theft 30 years ago. A new trial set aside the conviction.

Jones failed to re-register under the 1953 Alien Registration Act. A checkup showed he was convicted in 1924 of stealing a 3-cent newspaper. He was fined $15. At the new trial Jones told the judge he took the paper only because he was late for work and in a hurry to catch a streetcar.

Plenty Of Corn For Livestock

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today there will be plenty of corn and other feed for the nation's big livestock industry despite a 15 per cent drop, caused by drought, in the size of the prospective crop.

The indicated corn crop will not be large enough by itself to meet all livestock needs, but farmers have on hand from previous years a record supply on which they can draw, Benson said.

Some in Sockpile
Some of this grain is held in the government's 6 1/4-billion-dollar stockpile of farm surpluses, acquired under the price support program.

But, Benson added, the prospective small corn crop may put a brake on the current sharp upturn in production of hogs and poultry.

In its monthly crop report Tuesday, the Agriculture Department said searing hot temperatures and dry weather during July reduced corn prospects 487 million bushels below its previous forecast of 3,311,000,000 bushels, and about 350 millions below last year's harvest.

The adverse weather also hurt the prospects for some other crops, including soybeans, peanuts, sor-ghums, and hay. The aggregate volume of all crops declined, the department said, by about 5 per cent during the month.

But recent rains brought partial relief. The Weather Bureau, in its weekly grapefruit, said Tuesday the past week had brought improvement in the crop output in the northern two-thirds of the country.

In a statement on the drought, Benson said it served as "a reminder that we need to maintain

Old World Egret Now At Home In America

WASHINGTON — The United States has acquired a new bird resident from the Old World, the first in history to settle in mainland North America without known human aid.

The winged immigrant is the cattle egret (Bubulcus ibis), a handsome member of the heron family frequently seen in southern Spain, Africa and the warmer regions of Asia.

The story of how the cattle egret was spotted in the United States — in Massachusetts' Sudbury Valley on April 23, 1952 — is related in the current issue of the National Geographic Magazine by Dr. Roger Tory Peterson, one of today's outstanding ornithologists.

Feed On Insects
Cattle egrets feed on grasshoppers, flies, beetles and other insects flushed from pastures by grazing herds. Often they ride atop their bovine companions, picking off parasites. These habits also make the birds close associates of water buffaloes, elephants and hippopotamuses.

The cattle egret appeared suddenly in South America about 1930. Flocks spread from British Guiana to Surinam, Venezuela and Colombia. But oddly, their nesting places there have not yet been found.

Speculation still centers on their method of travel to the Western Hemisphere. The most plausible theory is that they rode the wind

Others turned up—one aboard a tawler on the Newfoundland Grand Banks, hundreds along Okeechobee, some in Virginia, Maryland and Maine. One man reported he saw cattle egrets in Florida in the early 1940's. Assuming they had escaped from captivity, he failed to report them.

The first nest discovered in the New World was found in the Okeechobee area.

Has Promising Future
The bird, beautiful and beneficial, is a fine addition to American avifauna, as it has been to that of every continent save cowless Antarctica.

Its beauty is marked by a change of coloration near breeding time. White plumes on crown, back and breast turn buff. Its stockier yellow bill and pink eyes contrast with the dark, spikelike bill and gleaming yellow eyes of the snowy egret, a native American easily

HOMING LOBSTERS
Like birds and some fish, lobsters have a remarkable homing instinct. They will find their way back to their feeding grounds over distances of more than two miles with all sorts of obstacles put in their way.

New Tax Law Provides Exemption For Illness

By CHARLES F. BARRETT
WASHINGTON — Many millions of additional workers are now eligible for tax-exemption on wages received while they are sick.

And more liberal rules have been adopted for taxing other employee sickness or accident benefits, death benefits, and lump-sum payments under pension, profit or stock-sharing plans.

All these rules are spelled out in the huge tax revision act recently passed by Congress. They apply to such employee benefits received after last Dec. 31, if they are financed by employers under any systematic plan.

First $100 Exempt
If you are covered by such a plan, perhaps the most important thing to remember is this: If your pay is continued while you are off work because of sickness or injury, you pay no tax on wages of up to $100 a week after the first seven days of the sickness or injury.

Further, you pay no tax on wages up to $100 during the first seven days if your absence is due to accidental injury, or if you are hospitalized at any time during an illness.

Thus, for example, if you make $100 a week or more and you are out three weeks with an injury or hospital illness, you can deduct $300 from your taxable income. Even at the minimum 20 per cent tax rate, that would be a tax saving of $60 for you. If you are sick but don't go to a hospital, your wages for two of the three weeks still would be tax-free, for a tax cut of at least $40.

Other Benefits
Here are other important benefits:

You pay no tax on payments which reimburse you for actual medical expenses paid by you or your dependents. Like sick leave wages, these payments simply are not counted as income.

Similarly you pay no tax on payments to you for the loss of limb or other part of the body, or for permanent disfigurement.

Under the old tax law, some employees got these tax-free benefits and some didn't. Generally, if your employer had a commercial insurance contract to cover his sick and accident benefits, they were tax-exempt. But if the employer financed them himself—as many do, especially for sick leave pay—the benefits were fully taxable.

Ends Discrimination
The new law wipes out what its sponsors called an unjust discrimination.

There is no limit on the sick-pay exemptions. If you are out for six months, for example, you could get up to $2,600 in tax-free wages and save at least $520 in taxes.

If an employee pays part of the cost of a sick or accident benefit plan, he pays no tax on the benefits for which he pays. The rules above would apply to that part of benefits financed by his employer.

The new act takes a similar step toward death benefits. Payments of up to $5,000 to beneficiaries could be tax exempt under the old law—but only if the employer was bound by contract to pay the benefit. The new act grants the exemption whether the benefit is paid under contract or not.

The new act also extends the $5,000 exemption to lump-sum death payments under qualified pension, profit-sharing or stock-bonus plans. Under the old law, such payments were not exempt if the employee while living had a benefit right which could not be forfeited to anyone else.

Early symbols of chivalry were square flags and only in later times were flags of a greater length than width adopted such as those used in modern times.

Truck Driver Kills Daughter And Self
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — A truck driver shot to death his 18-year-old daughter who was to become a bride Aug. 24. Then, before his terrified 19-year-old son, he said "You're going to see some fireworks now" and killed himself.

Justice of the Peace Arthur Boening ruled murder and suicide in the deaths Tuesday of Dietrich Mohlenhoff, 42, and his daughter, Ella.

Mohlenhoff's brother-in-law, H. Koenig, told officers Mohlenhoff was opposed to Ella's scheduled marriage to Ray Minor, 27, who lives in a trailer next to the Mohlenhoff farm home near here.

Southeast Asia Alliance Near

WASHINGTON — Seven countries were reported ready today to join the United States in drafting an alliance they hope will check further Red aggression in Southeast Asia.

Simultaneous announcement in all eight capitals is expected late this week. The various foreign ministers reportedly will meet Sept. 6 at Baguio, summer capital of the Philippines, to weld the pact.

Nations said to be ready to attend are Britain, France, the United States, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan.

U. S. diplomatic officials acknowledged there appears to be no chance that such Asiatic countries as India, Burma, Indonesia, and Ceylon — all of which have important stakes in Southeast Asia — would agree either to attend the meeting or to associate themselves indirectly with the military objectives of the alliance.

American officials, however, are clinging to some hope that India and other "neutralist" nations in Asia will join in the economic phases of the proposed pact.

Members of the proposed alliance, it was said, would pledge to cooperate to improve economic conditions in the region. Cooperative action would include technical aid projects.

On the military side, members would promise to challenge any aggression in Southeast Asia. No specific line would be drawn against the Reds, informants said.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence LaMarche, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chouinard, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Donat Boisvert, attended the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beauchamp at Perkins Saturday.

Robber Gets Stuck In Casement Window

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. — It was, perhaps, Oscar Linton's most embarrassing moment.

Police said they found him stuck in a casement window of a filling station, unable to get either in or out. He had to be pushed back in before police could get him out.

And, the cops said, he had $13 of the filling station's money.

but it would be understood informally that the non-Communist parts of Indochina would be covered, even though these states would not be pact signatories.

Miss Iris Beach, Dean W. Banks Wed In Lansing

St. Mary's Cathedral, Lansing, was the setting for the marriage of Miss Iris Beach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beach, 304 S. 17th St., and Dean W. Banks, son of Mrs. Mildred Denton, Lansing, July 24 at 9 a. m.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Palmer of St. Stanislaus Parish at Jackson, Mich., formerly of St. Mary's. Music of the Nuptial Mass was sung by the cathedral choir. A friend of the bride, Pauline Henning, sang "Panis Angelicus" at the offertory and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" at the end of the ceremony.

A gown of white nylon tulle and lace over heavy slipper satin was worn by the bride. It was fashioned with a tight fitted bodice, Peter pan lace collar and long sleeves of lace which tapered to a point at the wrists. The waltz length skirt was styled of lace and tulle tiers. Her shoulder length veil was caught to a lace cap. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Sister of the bride, Miss Joyce Beach, acted as maid of honor. She wore a waltz length gown of baby blue with a lace bodice featuring a scalloped neckline, and a waltz length skirt of tulle over satin. Her headpiece was a tiara of red roses, matching her bouquet.

Earl Richmond, Lansing, an uncle of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushering the guests to their seats were Joseph Dunlap and Bill Cochran.

The bride's mother attended the wedding in a light blue print dress with white accessories, while Mrs. Denton, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a navy dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of red roses.

Wedding Breakfast

Found Egg With Five Yolks

War Damage Brought Ruin And Poverty

ROME (AP)—Five hundred miles south of Rome a mountain of rock climbs out of the Mediterranean Sea like a geological mistake. A boat stops there twice a week, if the weather is good, and if there's nothing more important to do.

The island's name is Pantelleria. Remember? In 1943, Allied aircraft bombed Pantelleria until its houses were dust and its mountain seemed ready to crumble. On the sixth day, short of food, water and ammunition, the Italian commander surrendered. The Allies landed and pronounced Pantelleria 92 per cent destroyed.

Now it is not only forgotten, it is desperate. For 10 months the 11,000 islanders have not paid taxes. There is no money. For the past seven months the municipal employees have not been paid. The island is still a rubble. Eighty per cent of its buildings remain in ruins.

To everyone who made it possible for me to have a television set—and to all who sent candy and gifts—thank you so very much. And especially do I want to thank Mrs. Frank Arrowood who has been just wonderful to me.

Former Escanaba Eskymo athletic star Paul Baldwin is the only Upper Peninsula player invited to fall football practice at the University of Michigan . . . Baldwin, who earned football, basketball and baseball letters at Escanaba High School, is a quarterback candidate . . . Michigan has 19 lettermen returning from last season's squad.

The new Michigan High School Athletic Association ruling which allows the Escanaba ninth graders to compete in senior high school athletics affects only one other school in the Upper Peninsula . . . Bessemer is the only other city in the U. P. in which freshmen are not on the same campus as the rest of the high school students . . . That was the reason they were not allowed to take part in senior high athletic activity in the past.

Watch for an announcement soon from the MHSAA which will allow high school football teams to engage in one practice scrimmage with another high school this fall . . . In the past, practice scrimmages between high school teams—before the opening of the season—were forbidden.

They tell the story about Yogi Berra, great New York Yankee catcher, who is famed for swinging at bad pitches . . . In one crucial game Berra had two strikes on him when he swung high over his head and missed a third one . . . Back on the bench he glared at Casey Stengel, Yankee manager, and growled: "How did that wild so-and-so ever get into the major leagues?"

As in past years, softball teams that qualify for the Upper Peninsula championship tournaments will be allowed to pick up two additional players from teams in their own district and class . . . U. P. finals will be held at Iron Mountain in Class A, Ishpeming in Class B and Negaunee in Class C . . . District tournaments will be completed in the U. P. by Sunday, Aug. 15.

The chips are down for the Bark River Barks as the end of the regular Tri County League schedule approaches. On Sunday the Barks will entertain Loretto's Blackhawks in a critical game. If the Barks, long a power in the Tri County circuit, can topple Loretto they will move up into a tie for the league lead with one game remaining for each club.

New In League

However, if the Blackhawks, who are new to the loop this season, win the game the Barks can kiss their title hopes goodbye.

The key game in the circuit Sunday promises to be a good one. In the first meeting of the teams Loretto grabbed a 9-7 verdict on its home field.

Loretto remained undefeated after that game until last Sunday when Powers rose up to slug the league-leaders with an 8-5 setback. The Blackhawks had notched nine straight league decisions up to that game.

Powers In Third

The Barks are sitting a full game back of Loretto with an 8-2 record. Their other loss was a 6-5 upset at the hands of lowly Hardwood on Aug. 1.

Powers moved into third place in the standings on the strength of its win over Loretto and will make a home stand against Perronville on Sunday.

The remaining weekend game will have Niagara, in fourth place, entertaining Hardwood.

Eskymo Gridders Take Physicals Saturday At 2

Candidates for the Escanaba High School football team will take physical examinations Saturday afternoon at 2 at the field house, Coach Joe Milokina has announced.

All grid candidates must take the examination on Saturday. Equipment is being issued this week at the field house and the first practice session of the season will be held Monday.

A new ruling by the Michigan High School Athletic Association this year will allow ninth graders to compete with the varsity football team at Escanaba. A number of freshmen are expected to report for practice. In the past, freshmen at Escanaba were not allowed to compete in varsity athletics because the senior and junior high schools are located on different sites.

Harnischfeger batters reached the fences at Memorial Field twice last night enroute to a torrid 5-4 victory over the Merchants in an eight-inning Class A district tournament game.

In Class B action the Manistique Fords notched their second tourney win, 7-0 over Munising Coals on a two-hitter by Al Adams. Reynolds Redstrom tossed two-hit ball as the P & H Juniors tipped Westbys 4-2 and Manistique Paper Co. walloped Manistique Inland Steel in Class C contests.

The city champion Harnies found themselves behind 3-0 by the fourth inning and had only themselves to blame. The Merchants took advantage of sloppy play in the first inning to shove two runs across and added another in the last of the fourth.

LaPlante Homers
But with two out and two on in the top of the sixth Lowell LaPlante teed off on a 2-2 pitch and lost it over the left field fence.

Howard Rusha and Charley Camps scored ahead of LaPlante to tie the score at 3-3.

John Pieropon put the Harnies ahead briefly in the top of the seventh when, with two out, he blasted another homer off Leo Lancour.

The Merchants came back in the last of the seventh to tie it at 4-4 when Harry Lancour singled and moved to second when Lancour's grounder to second base was bobbled by LaPlante. Bob Le-

Houllier lined to shallow center field and Vern Johnson, who was running for Harry Lancour, scored from second base.

Need Double Play
LaPlante provided Harnischfeger with the winning punch in the top of the eighth inning when he lofted a single to short left field to score Dot Butler who had singled and moved to second on Mark Olson's grounder to first base.

The Harnies needed a double play, their second of the game, to erase Kippy Derouin who had singled in the last of the eighth inning.

Harnischfeger got in trouble in the first inning when Mickey Kuchenberg singled to open the game. LeHoullier bunted down the third base line and the throw to first hit the runner and bounded to the sidelines. Kuchenberg wheeled for home on the play and the loss to the plate was high and into the fence. LeHoullier also dug for home and the second throw to the plate was wild and he scored with ease.

The Merchants' third run came in the last of the fourth when Bob Anderson singled, stole second, moved to third on Bob Krohmer's grounder to short and scored on a wild pitch.

The Merchants reached Pieropon for eight safeties and the Harnies collected six hits off Lancour.

Adams Sharp Again
Adams' two-hitter over the Munising Coals in Class B was the second creditable chucking chore by the Manistique twirler who is handicapped by a broken fielding hand. In his first appearance Monday night he cut down Rapid River Bar 2-0 on a one-hitter.

The Fords reached Buddy Young of Munising for six hits. They jumped off to a four-run lead in the sixth, scoring Jim Mongrain and Bud Hjort, to provide the P & H Juniors with their 4-2 victory margin over Westbys. Dick Anderson allowed only five hits on the losing mound.

Jim Gouni tossed the Manistique Paper Co. win with Earl Tuinell on the mound for the losers.

Elks, L&R Win Tourney Games

L & R Sport Shop and the Elks, notched opening wins in the Babe Ruth League tournament last night.

Charley McCarthy hurled a three-hit 2-1 win for L & R over AFL Unions. Gary Paler fashioned a two-hitter and fanned 17 as the Elks beat Paper Mill 3-0.

AFL went ahead of L & R in the first inning when Mike Gregoire was safe on an error and scored on a single by Sequin. But L & R came back with two in the second when John Picard doubled to score Lester Millette and Bob Hughes doubled to score Picard.

Marvin Nault made a fine running one-hand catch in the outfield to save a homer in the final inning and protect McCarthy's win.

George Peterson matched Paler's two-hitter but one of the hits off the Paper Mill hurler was a triple by Tony Kutches with two on in the fifth inning. Kutches scored on a long fly for all the tallies in the 3-0 game.

Elks will meet Kiwanis Saturday morning at 10 and L & R plays Insurance Association at 1 in the semifinal games. The championship contest will be held at 5 Saturday afternoon at the City Diamond.

Elaine Rose shot steady golf to down the defending titlist 4 and 3. LeMire was 3-down at the end of the first nine.

In the other semifinal match yesterday Marg LeMire trimmed Ruth Needham, a former champion, 5 and 4. LeMire and Rose play at 2 this afternoon for the club championship. This is the first time in the finals for LeMire. Rose was runnerup in 1952 when Needham won the club crown.

Both of the semifinal losers were off their game yesterday. Needham lost the last five holes on the first round and was never able to recover.

Archie Moore Scores 14th Round TKO To Keep Title

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—A spectacular "called shot" technical knockout over able Harold Johnson in the 14th round added lustre to light heavyweight champion Archie Moore's great record today.

Now the 37½-year old fistic marvel will seek to fatten his bankroll with a Sept. 23 title fight in Omaha against either Joey Maxim or Jimmy Slade.

Maxim, beaten three out of three by the magnificent Moore, appears more likely to get the payday.

Rocky Next?

After stopping the fast-punching, solidly built Johnson in a dramatic come-from-behind fashion for his 19th straight victory, Moore said he'd like to fight either heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano or Don Cockell, the British heavyweight king.

Manager Johnson said "Marciano has that Sept. 15 title fight with Ezzard Charles and I know Cockell doesn't want any part of Archie. We want the dough and they're offering Archie $100,000 to fight in Omaha."

Right To Chin
Moore was ready, too, when Johnson told him to go out and "get" Johnson in the 14th.

"I'll knock him out in this round," Johnson said Moore told him. He did in just 56 seconds.

The crouching champion tore after his tiring rival, staggered him with a right to the chin, and then rained blows on his sagging rival. Johnson fell on his back.

The Philadelphia Negro clamored up at six but his legs were rubbery. Referee Ruby Goldstein stepped in and stopped the slaughter.

Decked In 10th

Although Moore was trailing going into the 14th, two of the three officials had him behind, the 175-pound ruler said, "I knew I'd get him."

Johnson decked Moore in the 10th with a right behind the ear. If the fight had been a ten rounder Harold would have won. All three officials had him ahead then. Goldstein had it 5-3-2, Judge Bert Grant 5-4-1 and Judge Arthur Aidala, 7-3-1. "I made one mistake," said the crestfallen loser. "My corner told me not to back up straight but I did and he got me."

Sports Roundup

Can an over-ambitious, aggressive spouse be the cause behind the budding problems of a young tennis star, who's changed overnight from a gracious and pleasant to a grasping and penurious "amateur?"

The clamor for Willie Mays' time before a game developed into so lively a hassle between two baseball writers that the Say Hey Kid broke down and cried . . .

Max Hirsch, who just turned 74, confided at Monmouth Park that he got into horse racing the same year it was outlawed in New Jersey until the post-World II revival—1893 . . . That was the year Edison invented the camera and gasoline bicycles first ventured on the street . . . Hirsch was a barefoot boy out of Texas who found himself stranded in West Virginia hip-high in snow, grew up to train horses for 15 millionaires simultaneously, won three Kentucky Derbies and prove he still has the touch in 1954 with Belmont Stakes winner High Gun . . .

A manager known for the tonorial velvet of his tones will wind up squeaking if he doesn't square his short-changing rap with the Philly fight mob . . . Joe Adcock of the four homers never played a game of baseball until his freshman year at Louisiana State, which he attended on a basketball scholarship . . . He learned to hit on the farm by knocking corn cobs over the barn roof with a broomstick . . . Now owns two farms, with Clint Courtney of the Orioles for a neighbor.

The story of one of baseball's phenomenal pinch-hitters is a success saga that could have come right out of Alcoholics Anonymous . . .

Next time Willie Mays reaches first base against the Cinex Reds, watch how he bangs Ted Kluszewski on the biceps or otherwise cuffs him around . . . after which Big Klu will step on Willie's toes or scuff dirt all over his feet—just some friendly fustian between two clouters . . . Vic Wertz wears a guard on his right leg when batting to protect him from fouls and still gets his shine banged up . . .

The Dodgers' hiring of Red Patterson, the self-exiled Yankee promotion chief, is a sure sign prexy Walter O'Malley is alarmed about Brooklyn's diminishing attendance . . .

When we asked Rocky Marciano how Ezzard Charles disappointed him most in their June fight, he answered, "By taking a helluva punch" . . . Or should I say punches? . . .

Rocky was telling about refereeing a wrestling bout in Minneapolis . . . Seems he heard one of the grapplers hated all fighters and might try some funny stuff, which didn't make the champ too happy since he'd been out of training for two months . . . "So," recalls the Rock, "the first time he growled at me, I caught him from behind in a full nelson, squeezed a little and whispered in his ears, 'You so-and-so, I haven't had a fight in two months and am just aching for one.' You know, he never bothered me a bit after that."

Jockey Charlie Burr, making a comeback at Monmouth Park at the advanced age of 20 (after three years' riding) has a 20-inch waist . . .

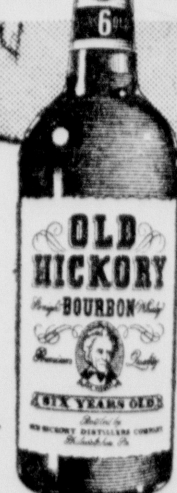

Card catcher Bill Sarni, all of 26, has been playing pro baseball 11 years . . . The best snap throw in the game belongs to Yankee Willie Miranda . . . Second baseman Foster Castleman comes up to the Giants from Minneapolis with a history of chronic bad legs . . .

Between you'n me, any pitcher out to bean a batter will aim behind his head, knowing the batter instinctively backs into the pitch.

Robin Hood Dell Concerts Now Outdraw Philadelphia Baseball

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
PHILADELPHIA. (AP)—Robin Hood Dell is a huge, shell-shaped amphitheater in a woodland city setting where the famed Philadelphia Orchestra and brilliant soloists stage a 6-weeks summer concert series each year. It is a widely heralded cultural experiment which fares better, on the whole, than does major league baseball at Connie Mack Stadium 10 blocks away.

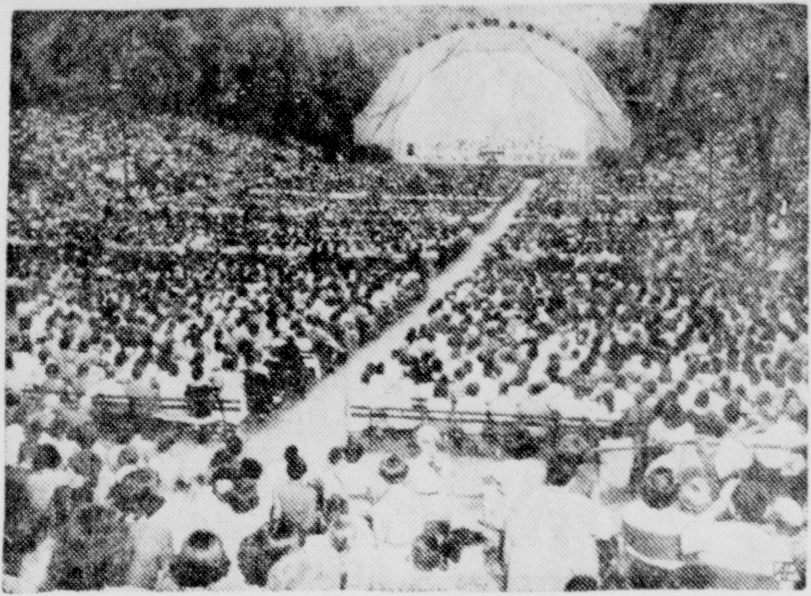

On one night in the current series while 6,209 customers watched the league-leading Cleveland Indians beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 25,000 stormed the Dell.

The Dell engages such artists as Lily Pons, Yehudi Menuhin, Jan Peerce, Dorothy Maynor, Claudio Arrau, Jarmila Novotna and others. Celebrating its silver jubilee it is a thriving project. Yet in 1948 it was ready to draw the screen across its huge bandshell. It potted through half the season, then gave up.

Next year, an industrialist named Frederick Mann, went to work on what seemed a case of rigor mortis. He brought the Dell round beautifully, paid off more than $55,000 in debts, put fire into the staff, handled programming with something like inspiration.

Last year Mann tried out the great cultural scheme — outdoor concerts for the people, all free, so far as the public was concerned. He got the city to appropriate $75,000 a year for the Dell's support, mobilized 750 patrons to donate $100 a year, their reward the glow of good works and two tickets to every concert. He didn't have to overstrain himself with the city fathers because, along with everything else, he is Philadelphia's recreation director. He gave it to them straight—"recreation must be cultural as well as physical."

More than 407,000 attended the 1953 concerts, three a week for the six weeks, plus three morning concerts for children. Mann is confident the Dell will beat that figure by at least 15,000 this year. To get in, a person has only to fill out an application blank, printed in Philadelphia newspapers, and mail it to the Dell offices. Requests are filled on a first come, first

The 50-year-old, Russian-born Mann, enthusiastic and expansive, dismissed two secretaries, rattled through two phone calls, bade good-bye to a caller heading for Europe, waved in a barber to shave him, put a match to a fine cigar, and said:

Steward Is Also An Inventor

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., (AP)—Ross Robbins, flight steward with North Central Airlines, Inc., has invented a pint-sized speaker system which he says delivers sound similar to that heard in a concert hall. Ross, who spent a year and a half perfecting his system, says the secret lies in the design of his cabinet and a new arrangement of the speakers.

The cabinet, made of plastic, is prism-shaped. The front grill measures 19 inches square and the sides of the cabinet taper off like a wedge to a point nine and one-half inches behind the center of the grill. It's supposed to be placed in a corner of a room.

Inside the cabinet, Ross has mounted five baffles and five speakers — one for the treble tones, one for the middle ranges and two for bass and one for the very low bass. Arranged properly, they form chambers acoustically designed for maximum reproduction.

Robbins has applied for a patent.

"People ask, 'Why free concerts?' The answer is that more people love music than can afford to pay for it," Mann says. "Under our plan, they can eat and hear music, too."

"The free concerts help musicians and artists. They stimulate interest in good music everywhere, for they are comparable to the best festivals in Europe. Every big city should have a Dell, just as it has a public library, a museum and art gallery. Already several cities want to know more about this outstanding example of private enterprise teaming up with the city under auspices of the recreation department."

Monkey Dictator Is Thrown Out

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—When Jiggles, a spider monkey, and three buddies set up a monkey-dictatorship and tried to corner the food supply for all the monkeys, an opposition party formed quickly and tossed Jiggles into the moat around the monkey island at the zoo.

Arnold Hood, zookeeper, says that everytime he tries to put Jiggles back on the island the result is the same—he's tossed in the water by the outraged monkeys. Now Jiggles, languishing in a private cage, is for sale.

Piano Tuner Has Novel Experiences

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—A musician is under a handicap if he tries piano tuning, says Ronald P. Traill, a piano tuner for 32 years. He, says musicians are concerned with tonal quality. The piano tuner listens to the vibrations which determine pitch.

A piano tuner's life has its surprises. Traill has seen mice leaping out of piano cases and squirrels and sudden clouds of moths. During prohibition, he reached into a piano case and came up with a fifth of hooch.

The commonest enemy of the piano, he says, is the dry heat of overheated apartments and houses. For concert work, a piano should be tuned before every concert, says Traill. For meticulous musicians, once a month is average. For most of the rest of us, once a year is average.

Read Comics While Driving A Truck

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Patrolman Neal Grover noticed a teenager driving down the street reading a comic book which lay on the steering wheel.

The boy stopped at the city's busiest intersection for a red light, then made a left turn on green with hardly a glance up from his book. Grover took the youth into Municipal Court.

The judge, fining him $5, told him to do his reading in the back seat.

"If It's New ... We Have It"

Dowsing Fantastic, Author Admits, But Calls It A Science

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures
KENNEBUNKPORT, Maine—A noted author and a sun-browned man of the outdoors who talks to a forked twig want to solve the world's drinking water shortage. Kenneth Roberts, who has written many popular historical novels, has directed operations of Water Unlimited here for five years. Henry Gross, a retired Maine game warden, handles the dowsing rod.

Their activities and claims have brought a storm of skepticism and criticism from geologists and scientists.

"They think we're crazy," Roberts says. "But they won't look at us. We've been turning up water all over the United States."

Roberts agrees with geologists and engineers that the extra sense he claims for a good dowsing is wholly fantastic and unexplainable. "We only disagree when (they) contend that it cannot exist and therefore should not be investigated and put to use."

Roberts has written two books about water dowsing. A dowsing rod in the hands of a competent dowsing, only works on flowing underground water, he says. This excludes motionless deposits, such as are pun-tured by artesian wells. It means underground rivers, sheets, veins and domes.

The rod, Roberts claims, points not only to water veins and domes over which the dowsing is standing, "but to water sources at great distances from the dowsing."

Gross, who travels 50,000 miles a year, doesn't like to search for water by remote control—from maps and charts, but it was on a map that Gross located three wells in Bermuda, where thirsty folk, including U. S. Air Force men, drank stored rain or imported water. The latest success reported was finding water from a scale map for a scientist—G. Preston Hoff of Wilmington, Del., an E. I. du Pont de Nemours chemist. It's pretty difficult, Roberts says, to estimate the percentage of failures.

"Probably 8 per cent of wells, sunk, dug or drilled on our say so have not produced water in the desired amount. We found that when Henry's rod points to flowing underground water, the water is always there; but circumstances may seem to show that it isn't."

Water-seeking at a Torrington Conn., school site, he said, would have been a "monumental failure if we hadn't insisted that the well be surged — or washed out under pressure." This cleaned crevices of cement-like drilled rock dust, and the well was a success.

Any kind of small, forked, branch will do for a dowsing rod, says the gray-haired, strong-handed Gross. He also says he can use a forked piece of wire or blade of grass.

As Gross bends over a map or chart or stands on his searching ground, Roberts asks the questions, which Henry repeats, as if to the rod.

"Now, Henry," Roberts asks, "in what direction is the nearest vein?" Henry turns until the rod plunges. Roberts asks about domes, width, flow — more than a score of questions. As the rod dips, Henry answers.

"For hundreds of years, Roberts says, "minor scientists have attacked water dowsing, heaping curses on their heads and accusing them of every imaginable form of demonology and witchcraft."

"I have never ceased to marvel at the peculiar and unexplained timidity that leads so many people to try to conceal the fact that they have been to us for help."

He has a letter from an Air Force man undergoing treatment in a neuro-psychiatric ward in a base hospital. This man also is a dowsing.

The medicos, he said, were "so damned prejudiced that they believe that mere interest in the subject is sufficient to question a person's sanity," the letter says.

Pledges Are Taken By Illinois Drivers

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Illinois drivers are taking the sticker pledge. Placed on windshields, the stickers say, "Pledge to Illinois State Police to drive with courtesy and safety."

SOMETHING AFOOT — That's her own foot screen actress Anne Baxter is holding. She's showing off her latest conceit — a pearl ring worn on her toe. She thinks it will start a new fad. Her 1953 conceit — smoking a cigar in a Hollywood night-club—did not start a new fad.

Denies Petition To Vacate Area

MATHEWS, Va. (AP)—Navigable rivers, bays and arms of the sea and ground under them never did belong to the King of England in Virginia and other colonies, Judge Lewis Jones ruled in court here. He denied a petition to vacate an oyster ground lease made by the state on the ground that it violated an original grant of land to George Bilups in 1653. Since Magna Carta, Judge Jones said, ownership had been in parliament.

Pleasing The Folks Seeing The Country

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP) — Accompanied by a ringtail monkey, a whale's rib and 180 rusty guns, two disabled war veterans have toured 44 states on a 270,000-mile jaunt since 1944. Fred Sheldon and Bill Sellers like the life.

Packed in their ancient truck are such attractions as a bear trap ballyhooed as the only one in the world which catches the bear by the head, and an assortment of pictures of hangings.

DAILY PRESS
Escanaba, August 12, 1954 23

Visitors are welcome to inspect the display. If they wish to contribute a dime or quarter, that's fine; if not, that's fine too. The show is seldom seen twice in the same town—but not because the two veterans and their show aren't welcome.

"We just enjoy seeing the country," Sheldon grins.
